

Vermont Cooperative for Practice Improvement & Innovation

Inspiring hope, wellness, resilience and recovery for Vermonters experiencing mental health and substance
use conditions

New Course Announcement

Preview available on VCPI You Tube Channel:

<https://tinyurl.com/y7rlgjsy>

Orientation and Clinical Skills for Direct Service Providers

Module 1 - The Foundation: Welcoming, Hope, and Respect

Available now to VCPI Members under the Member Courses section at <http://vtcpi.org/>

VCPI is excited to introduce our first module in the series of training curriculum focused on orienting new direct service providers to effectively partner with those who seek support within the Vermont System of Care. It seems most appropriate to start this series with the cornerstones of effective practice. With a focus on the values, principles, and beliefs, this first module in the series is designed to give new staff the opportunity to hear about the importance of these concepts directly from those who have participated in supports and services and encourage effective partnering with other professionals.

In addition to an on-line video module and accompanying workbook, there are supplemental materials that will assist with integrating the information into practice.

Up next:

Module II - Watch for our next course module to launch later this year!

Better yet, get in on the ground floor of development of coursework to ensure your priorities are reflected in VCPI's products. Future modules will contain "value-driven" practice concepts that have the most positive impact on quality of services which save time and resources.